
SHRP HELPS HOST TUCSON TREE FEST 2022

Save the Heart of Reid Park was in Reid Park on Saturday, October 15, to help Mayor Regina Romero, The City of Tucson, Tucson Clean & Beautiful and other hosts at Tucson Tree Fest 2022 celebrate the importance of trees for Tucson's climate future. This public, family-friendly event highlighted the critical role of trees and urban shade in our desert ecosystem and celebrated the achievements of the Mayor's Tucson Million Trees program.

Tucson Tree Fest 2022 provided an opportunity for Tucsonans to learn about the City of Tucson's Urban Forestry Action Plan and take part in a variety of hands-on learning activities.

Reid Park's trees and ponds provide year-round habitat to a huge variety of resident and migrant birds. As an educational activity for Tucson Tree Fest, SHRP assembled a notebook of bird photos for event attendees to identify. Backs of photos provided names and detailed information about the birds, including conservation status, migration patterns, and more. The notebook proved quite popular.

One visitor to our booth identified all of the birds perfectly. Congratulations to our Ward 3 Council Person Kevin Dahl on his comprehensive knowledge of Reid Park's avian denizens!
